WASHINGTON CITY, THURSDAY NIGHT, JULY 17, 1845.

EXTENSION OF PATENTS.

[CIRCULAR.] PATENT OFFICE, June 21, 1845. THE undersigned, constituted by law a board to decide upon applications for the extension of patents, have adopted the following suggestions and rules, for the benefit of those persons who may hereafter apply for extensions.

rules, for the benefit of those persons who ma hereafter apply for extensions.

The questions which arise on each application for an extension are—

1. Is the invention novel?

2. Is it useful?

3. Is it valuable and important to the public?

4. Has the inventor been adequately remunerate for his time and expense in originating and perfec-ing it?

4. Has the inventor been adequately remunerated for his time and expense in originating and perfecting it?

5. Has he used due diligence in introducing his invention into general use?

The two first questions will be determined upon the result of an examination in the Patent Office; as will also the third, to some extent.

To enable the board to come to a correct conclusion in regard to the third point of naquiry, the applicant should, if possible, procure the testimony of persons disinterested in the invention, which testimony should be taken under oath.

In regard to the fourth and fifth points of inquiry, in addition to his own oath showing his receipts and expenditures on account of the invention, by which its value is to be ascertained, the applicant should show, by the testimony of disinterested witnesses on oath, that he has taken all reasonable measures to introduce his invention into general use, and that, without default or neglect on his part, he has failed to obtain from the use and sale of the invention a reasonable remuneration for the time, ingenuity, and expense bestowed on the same, and the introduction thereof into use.

The report of the examiner upon the novelty and utility of the invention, will be ready fifteen days before the day appointed for the hearing, which will be open for inspection at the Patent Office; copies of which will be firmished to all parties interested, if desired, on payment of the usual fees for copies.

In case of opposition by any person to the extension of a patent, both parties may take testimony, each giving reasonable notice to the other of the time and place of taking said testimony, which shall be taken according to the rules prescribed by the Commissioner of Patents in cases of interference.

All arguments submitted to the board must be in writing.

riting.
In conclusion, the undersigned would remark In conclusion, the undersigned would remark, generally, that a monopoly of his invention is secured by law to the inventor for the term of four-teen years. This is done with a view to compensate him for his time and expense in originating and perfecting it. At the end of the time for which his patent runs, his monopoly should cease, and the invention become public property, unless he can show good reasons to the contrary. The presumption is always against his application; and if he cannot show that his invention is novel, useful, valuable, and important to the public, and that, having made all reasonable effort to introduce it into general use, he has not been adequately remunerated for his time and expenses in discovering and perfecting it, the board cannot grant an extension.

THIS preparation is particularly recommended to persons of weak habit, and to such as reside in low situations, where the nervous system is, in general, more or less relaxed. The addition of certain ingredients has so completely disguised the taste of the bark, as to render this efficacious remedy, a most palatable cordial; thus peculiarly adapting it to conquer that repugnance which most persons experience after taking for some time bitter potions, as it combines the greatest efficacy with a highly agreeable flavor. As a preventive of the ague it has superseded the use of all other remedies, in such parts of the country as it is known. Prepared only by J. Milhau, No. 183 Broadway, New York. thousands that have resorted thither in search of health, after years of affliction, will corroborate felly this medical testimony. These waters have resulted in the entire restoration of persons laboring under rheumatism, bifous affections, dyspepsia, and every

The proprietor has endeavored to put this watering place on a footing with the most fashionable and comfortable places of the sort, in a plain style, and will use every exertion in his power to make his visiters comfortable.

It is easy of access for all the Atlantic cities. Persons leaving Baltimore in the morning cars will arrive at the depot at 3 o'clock the same day, where a conch will be in readiness to take them immediately to the springs.

The proprietor feels thankful for the encouragement he has received from the public, and will use every exertion to merit a continuance of it, by making those comfortable who may give him a call.
